

Atoms Water Wand

The water wand introduces passive natural energy waves into clean drinking water, fruit, vegetable and vitamin drinks. This process causes water molecules to shed excess minerals and other substances, which break down into finer more usable nutrients. Since the water molecule becomes lighter, you can drink more liquids. This process balances pH, transports nutrients, and absorbs more waste in the body at a faster rate. Drinking more water and fluids helps increase your rate of hydration, assimilation of nutrients and elimination (detoxification). This subtle energy is discernable and gives a feeling of well-being.

Excessive minerals and other particles attached to water molecules

Wand energy breaks down excess minerals clinging to water molecules. The lighter water speeds up hydration, assimilation of nutrients and elimination (detox)
