Natural Healing, Ancient Technology

Negative Ions: Invigorate & Refresh The Mind & Body

Negative ions have been found to facilitate the delivery of oxygen to cells, which stimulate bodily functions and rejuvenation. They also increase the flow of oxygen to the brain, resulting in higher alertness, decreased drowsiness, and more mental energy. Studies have also shown that negative ions help to lift mood, alleviate depression and stimulate body’s defense cells which marshal our resistance to disease.

Ever wonder why the air feels more invigorating and you feel fresher when you are at a waterfall or after a fresh rain? This is due to the abundance of “feel good” negative ions in the air. Research has confirmed the beneficial effects of negative ions on all living things - plants grow faster and healthier, animals are calmer and perform tasks better, and humans become less stressed and more alert.

Far Infrared Bio-Ceramic chip: Nature’s Way of Healing

Far Infrared Bio-chip technology can increase the oxygen capacity of the blood stimulating the regeneration of skin, cell tissue and blood cells. This subtle movement improves metabolism triggering enzyme activity which helps to flush out toxins and can reduce pain and swelling. Far Infrared technology has many benefits through this stimulation and can reduce pain, increase circulation, improve and support your immune system and, also help you detoxify.

Magnet therapy: The Power to Move

Magnetic therapy, bio-magnetics, or magneto-therapy is a complementary and alternative medicine practice involving the use of static magnetic fields. Practitioners claim that subjecting certain parts of the body to static magnetic fields produced by permanent magnets has beneficial health effects, like pain relief, increased blood flow, and improved healing. Systematic research has confirmed that strong static magnetic fields from permanent magnets are able to constrict and dilate the walls of capillary blood vessels. This may reduce inflammation and increase blood circulation respectively; it also may be potentially effective in relief of pain and swelling after sports injury and muscle stress and trauma. The magnets used are the highest quality Neodymium and are the strongest type of permanent magnet made.

Germanium: Facilitates the Conductivity & Flow of Bio-Energy

One of the most fundamental properties of Germanium is its semi-conductivity, i.e. its ability to donate and receive electrons easily. Many of Germanium’s healing properties may be due to this intrinsic piezoelectric quality. Coupled with its ability to neutralize the effects of positive ions that can impede the smooth flow of energy, Germanium is able to “correct” and facilitate the flow of the body’s bio-energy, hence, increasing energy levels, and relieving pain and stiffness.

THERA H2O:
YOUR BODY DESERVES IT!

We are a nation that drinks water, yet 68% of Americans tested are dehydrated. That is because most of the water consumed is not adequately utilized by our bodies. It just passes through and never really provides us with any benefits. Most water companies scrub and filter water, taking out harmful chemicals like chlorine and fluoride, along with any beneficial chemicals. In the process, the water’s natural pH balance is changed all for the worse.

THERA H2O has revolutionized the process. We return the water to its original composition as found in nature. This brings balance and harmony to the body and improves the interaction of the rest of the fluids.

THERA H2O utilizes state of the art FAR Infrared technology to re-structure the water and optimise absorption, as nature planned it to be. Using activated carbon and special paramagnetic materials, we soften our water, infuse negative ions restoring pH balance, to help the body neutralize excessive and harmful free radicals.

Features & Benefits
- Effective filtration of lead, zinc, copper, and pollutants in tap water
- Tests to NSF standards
- BPA free
- Removes chlorine, heavy metals, and odors
- FAR Infrared frequency influence
