

Baci Mi™ Gophette's Fou Fou Rose Petal Gel

Our Baci Mi™ Gophette's Fou Fou Rose Petal gel is made of pure therapeutic grade essential oil of Rosa damascena as manufactured by Young Living Essential Oils®. It is combined with our very own Baci Mi™ Aloe gel that contains aloe and Willard's Water®. Baci Mi™ Gophette's Fou Fou Rose Petal Gel comes with a hand-crafted; Jeweled Dragonflies by the Vietnamese artist, Lo'An Mead. All are unique and no two are alike.

Rosa damascena is the primary rose used in making rose absolute, which was first distilled by the Arabian physician Avicenna during the Middle Ages, and the people of the Renaissance believed that it relieved stress. While the rose's aroma undoubtedly sets a stabilizing mood during times of anxiety and grief, it also exhibits the intoxicating qualities of an aphrodisiac. It is not surprising, then, that people feel passionately about the expensive oil, one ounce of which requires a minimum of 180 flowers.

Gophette's Fou Fou Rose Petal has a beautiful, strong floral and sweet fragrance of rose that is intoxicating and highly romantic. It helps bring balance and harmony with stimulating and uplifting properties that create a sense of well-being and self-confidence. Its use during the Middle Ages in aiding sufferers of leprosy was well known throughout Europe and the Far East.

Its usefulness and therapeutic value in skincare for thousands of years has still continued into our current times. It is perfect for dry, wrinkled or prematurely aged skin. Baci Mi™ Gophette's Fou Fou Rose Petal has an approximate ORCA of 1,604,284 (TE/L), which is based upon Young Living Essential Therapeutic Grade Oils® analytical testing. The TE/L is expressed as micromole Trolox equivalent per letter. Baci Mi™ uses Earth Kosher and Kosher certified materials in their formulations.
